

VOICES OF REVOLUTION

AND THE REVOLUTION IN WILMINGTON AFTER BRANDYWINE

FREE WORKSHOP FOR DEL. TEACHERS

Friday, October 9, 2026
8:30 AM-3:30 PM

Delaware Art Museum
Thronson Board Room

2301 Kentmere Parkway,
Wilmington, DE 19806

In 2026, as we mark the 250th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence, Voices of Revolution explores the variety of people who participated in the Revolutionary War and some of the battlefields where their paths crossed to explore the human experience—what individuals saw and did, where they came from and why, how the war impacted them, and how they impacted the war—using their words, belongings and likenesses.

The Attack upon the Chew House
by Howard Pyle, 1898

Registration required; six hours of professional development hours conferred relative to the Delaware Department of Education Social Studies Standards for History, Anchor Standard Four. Register at: <https://www.americanrevolutioninstitute.org/free-workshop-for-delaware-teachers/>. Continental breakfast and lunch provided along with admission to the Delaware Art Museum. Funding provided by the Delaware State Society of the Cincinnati.
